

Books 4 Giving

Businesses, Churches and Banks are welcome to join My Father's House in a very practical and unique way to raise funds to help homeless families all year long. It's really easy and requires absolutely no effort or work on your part, just a willingness to help out.

My Father's House is partnering with Books 4 Giving www.Books4Giving.com It is a simple way to not only help MFH but also other non-profits in your community.

Here's how it works...Call Cathe at My Father's House and let me know which size box you want: a large outdoor box or a recycle bin size inside box. There is absolutely NO COST for the box to be placed at your church or business. Signs will be on your box telling others that you support My Father's House and are collecting books to be recycled and the shelter will be paid for the books.

Once your box is full, just pick up the phone and call Books 4 Giving. They will pick up your books and send My Father's House a check at the end of the month! You don't have to unload, sort, or deliver the books anywhere, Books 4 Giving will do all the work for you.

Other facts you may want to know:

- Bins are insured with over $1 million
- Bring potentially new customers to your business
- Allows you & your customers a way to support My Father's House
- FREE advertising for your business/church (we periodically advertise on Craig's List, Oregonian, OregonianLive.com etc...)
- No contracts. Participate as long as you like, the longer the better so My Father's House can receive $ each month
- Encourages recycling & reusing to keep books out of the landfills
- Encourages literacy & reading
- 90% of the books go back into the community to low income homes, schools & other non profits that need them.
- All types of books! kids, adults, fiction, nonfiction, paperback, hardcover etc...

Just not any encyclopedias or magazines or books too damaged, moldy, ripped etc...

It really is just that easy to partner with My Father's House and help families every single day. Thank you for your consideration and support of your local community shelter for homeless families!
